Gentlemen:

We received your order and check in payment for same in due time and could have shipped your safe some two weeks ago had we not been delayed with the painting. Mr. Garretson said that you would send us a special picture for the outside, which up to this time has not come to hand. We advised Mr. Garretson shortly after receiving the order that the picture had not arrived and he advises us that he had notified you. If you still desire this special scene please send on the sketch, or shall we go ahead and put some other appropriate design on for you?

Awaiting your early reply, we are

Yours truly,

Dear Sir,

Thanks very much for yours of 26th ult. I am sorry that at the present writing I cannot entertain the purchase of the 7,500 shares you kindly offer me for $1.25 per share. I have been instructed by my English client recently to put his money in Golden Cache and no other, so I have no option. I myself tried to divide it up between the Golden Cache and what I consider one of the best mines in the country, but unfortunately this gives me no voice in the matter.

I will be very pleased to be kept informed of the handling of the stock of your company and will be glad to place a good block at a fair price when I have any clients looking for such an investment.

Yours very truly,

J. M. Mackinnon
